

WELCOME TO MY STUDIO

I'm thrilled to share my newest paintings with you! I hope these pieces, about trusting yourself, being mindful with technology, and finding beauty around you bring you inspiration and joy.

All of these paintings will be available through the links below on Saturday April 30th at 11am PST. Until then, please let me know if I can send you more information about the soon to be released artwork!

With enthusiasm,

Sarah Stieber

TRUST SERIES

I wanted to learn about trusting myself, so I began cultivating relationships with women who listen to their bodies and trust their internal "knowing." I was inspired to create art celebrating their intuition and the untraditional and gorgeous paths it has led them on.

*A percentage of the sale will go to helping Avonte open the incubator kitchen

Avonte created Rollin Roots Vegan Food Truck because he wanted to prove that delicious comfort food could be both ethical and equitable. After Rollin Roots' Vegan food truck was burned down in an unconscionable hate crime, Avonte ran a successful Gofundme campaign to rebuild and is now raising funds for a new incubator kitchen that will serve as a launchpad for chefs of color.

Sarah's uplifting portrait of Avonte shows him emerging from his destroyed truck and moving toward a successful and empowered future.
